VICKIE CARL RETIRES AFTER 37 YEARS WITH THE RICHARDS FREE LIBRARY

When Vickie Carl began working at the library in November of 1982, she stamped books out with a date stamp attached to a pencil. She typed catalog cards on an electric typewriter and filed them in little wooden drawers.

Today, Vickie catalogs all the materials that appear on our library shelves. When someone wants a book that the library doesn't own, Vickie tracks it down and borrows it for them.

Vickie initiated and has led the successful knitting group that meets on the third Tuesday every month. She has helped shepherd the library through two major building renovations. She has survived over 35 library festivals and helped to organize most of the Sarah Josepha Hale Award evenings.

When Vickie leaves on June 9, 2020, she will leave good friends and a hole in the library family that will

NOT SURE WHAT BOOKS TO REQUEST?

To place books on hold, log into your account online and searching and browsing the catalog. If you want help placing a hold or picking out your next read, you can contact us at 603-863-3430 or rfl@newport.lib.nh.us. We can make suggestions or recommendations based on your reading history, or we can make up a "grab bag." Also, take a look at a new feature of our website, Book Lists, where you can find several genre lists put together by our staff. You can also find lists of new books in the library on our website here.

Questions? The library staff is now in the building to answer phone calls Tuesday through Friday 10:00 to 5:00. Call us at 603-863-3430.
