FROM OUR ASSISTANT LIBRARY DIRECTOR*Justine Fafara

I am a sucker for a good book list. I love the end of the year because of all the “best of” lists that come out. Goodreads usually has my favorite list, and this year is no exception. You can find that list here.

I’m also a big fan of statistics. One of my favorite job duties is running monthly usage statistics for our report to the Board of Trustees. End of the year statistics are that much more fun for me!

Are you wondering what the most popular new books were at the library in 2020? I was! So I pulled a list to share with you. The fiction list doesn’t surprise me. John Grisham, Nora Roberts, Stuart Woods, and James Patterson will be popular forever. The non-fiction list didn’t surprise me too much either. In our current political climate, of course our most popular non-fiction is books about the president and Washington D.C. Plus a book of skills; we were all stuck at home for months and needed something to do!

Have you read these popular books? They’re all available at the library, and we’re offering curbside pickup, so give us a call if you want to take one home!

Richards Free Library Most Popular Fiction
Published in 2020:

- 1. Camino Winds by John Grisham
- 2. The Hideaway by Norah Roberts
- 3. Bombshell by Stuart Woods
